

National Transportation Training Center

CLAYTON, IN

CLIENT

National Transportation Training Center

SIZE

Multi-Acre Site

PROJECT TEAM

David A. Creech, AIA, NCARB
Principal-In-Charge

Brent J. Green, LEED AP
Designer/Project Manager

Michael S. Supino, AIA, NCARB
Project Architect

The National Transportation Training Center Master Plan is located just outside Indianapolis, Indiana, which has become a critical hub for the transportation industry. The planned campus will be focused on creating and developing the knowledge, skills, and abilities essential for quickly reformatting the transportation industry and hence transforming it into a national model for integrations of education, technology, trades, industry, and work force development and sustainability. The master plan allows for training and work space as well as the necessary amenities for the trainees. The amenities include, housing, dining, fitness, and entertainment. The campus is designed to employ numerous partners in this critical industry.

